

Call for Proposals

28th Annual Faculty Day Conference

Brooklyn College • Wednesday, May 14, 2025

brooklyn.edu/faculty/faculty-day

The multitude of presentations and dynamic discussions at the Faculty Day Conference are what make it such a wonderful experience each year. We invite you to participate in this exchange of ideas. We anticipate this to be a day filled with thought-provoking, absorbing, and sometimes controversial topics.

Given the breadth and depth of academic backgrounds at the college, proposals considered from an interdisciplinary perspective and contributions from a range of viewpoints are strongly encouraged. All faculty (full- and part-time) and professional staff are invited to submit proposals for the conference.

We welcome presentations in all disciplines and covering any topic in the tracks of scholarship, pedagogy and creative works.

Proposals should be submitted by Thursday, December 5, 2024 using the online proposal form.

Please e-mail any questions to the Faculty Day Conference Committee at FacultyDay@brooklyn.cuny.edu.

Learn
Discuss
Meet
Enjoy Faculty Day
Conference

See next page...

Presentation Formats and Venues

Interdisciplinary Panel Discussion. Multiple perspectives on a major topic that will be of wide general interest. This is an opportunity to share your emerging or completed scholarship, and pedagogical innovations with your colleagues across the college. Typically, each 75-minute panel involves three presenters and a moderator, usually from across disciplines.

- You may submit an individual presentation proposal, which will be combined with other relevant topics in a panel format. We will help connect you with colleagues from around the college who share similar areas of interest.
- We welcome fully formed panels, presenting multiple perspectives on a major topic that will be of wide general interest.

Performance or Literary Reading. Share your creative work in poetry, fiction, music, or theater. Individual presentations may be combined in a single 75-minute session.

Works in progress or those previously presented at disciplinary conferences are welcome.

Luncheon Roundtable. Moderator(s) lead an informal discussion on a topic of common interest at a 10-person table during lunch. Discussion is open to all participants who wish to join.

Poster Session. In the form of a poster, authors present research findings or describe an ongoing program or investigation. Help with formatting and large-format printing is available.

Art Gallery. Show your photos, paintings, sculpture and crafts at the poster session.

Please visit brooklyn.edu/faculty/faculty-day to learn more about the conference and take a look at programs from previous years.

If you're ready to submit your proposal, follow this link directly to the **online proposal form**.